

Peer-to-Peer Training

Empower students

WITH AN ON-SITE EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT

Research shows that one of the most effective ways of teaching is to engage students as peer educators. Through hands-on training, they become experts on our historical exhibits, emerging as leaders as they share their knowledge as guides for the rest of the school community.

BY HOSTING A P2P TRAINING PROGRAM THROUGH THE ANNE FRANK CENTER, YOUR COMMUNITY CAN:

- ➔ Help young people understand the dangers of racism, anti-Semitism and all forms of prejudice;
- ➔ Connect history to the present;
- ➔ Build self-esteem, empathy, ambition, and social responsibility;
- ➔ Give students an opportunity to become official Anne Frank youth delegates;
- ➔ Share the positive messaging of Anne Frank's humanitarian legacy.

This peer guide program has been phenomenally successful around the world, including in the UK for more than a decade. P2P is particularly effective in traditionally underserved, socially and economically-challenged communities where young people are in need of engaging leadership activities.

Recent hosts agree: "A very moving and though-provoking experience."
"By far one of the nicest exhibits we've ever had."
"Many were in awe we were given this honor."
